COMMENTS FROM THE CEO

“They say an army marches on its stomach – well our Hospice marches on community partnerships and the strength of these relationships is critical to our future sustainability. As our organisation provides its services to anyone, anywhere across Taranaki, so our support to continue this work comes from those same communities. As we only receive around 45% of the costs of providing our care from central government, partnering with events, companies and individuals to help fund our future work is essential to our hospice. It is indeed heartening to acknowledge that we are the most highly respected and valued charity healthcare provider in our province.

This community reputation has been gained over thirty years of service and care. This year, over 650 patient referrals will be supported through our Hospice. So partnerships supported through fund raising will always be a cornerstone of our community connections and something we are always sincerely grateful for.”

Paul Lamb. CEO

Highlight of the Month

Our Day program was treated to a fabulous hour of ukulele magic by the talented local group ‘Something Else.’ They brought joy with their sing along classics like ‘Mack the Knife’ and the modern waiata, ‘Pepeha’. There was plenty of foot tapping, laughter and the memories flowed. Thank you for visiting us!

Meet the team

I am part of the operations team at Hospice Taranaki. One of the friendly faces you see on arrival at Te Rangimarie, I’m here to help with all sorts of queries. This place is very special, and I am privileged to engage with our amazing staff, volunteers, patients and their whanau. My role is to also provide administrative support to both our clinical and non-clinical staff. It’s fulfilling to be a part of a team that works tirelessly to help our patients to live well.

Hospice is not about a building, it is a philosophy of care

Te Kahu Pairuri Hospice Taranaki provides palliative care to patients in any place they call home.
